J.P. MORGAN TO TESTIFY IN 'LEAK' PROBE

Big Bankers of New York Subpoenaed in Treaty Investigation

Wilson Backs Hitchcock in Move—Borah Makes Statement to Quizzers

WASHINGTON — The senate foreign relations committee today subpoenaed J. P. Morgan, Frank A. Vanderlip and other big New York bankers as witnesses in the investigation of the "treaty leak."

The entire list of those subpoenaed follows: Jacob Schiff, Henry P. Davison, Thomas Lamont, Paul Warburg, Morgan and Vanderlip. The committee instructed Lamont to bring with him all correspondence between Morgan and company and its Paris and London agents, with relation to the peace treaty and the league of nations, particularly the letters written to Davison while he was abroad as head of the American Red Cross.

The committee's action closely followed presentation by Senator Hitchcock of a cablegram to him from President Wilson in which the president seconded Hitchcock's demand for investigation of the charges of Senators Borah and Lodge that the text of the treaty is in the hands of New York persons.

WILSON'S MESSAGE PRESENTED
Hitchcock presented the cablegram as soon as the committee met in public session to lay plans for the "leak" investigation as authorized by the senate last week under the Hitchcock resolution. Following presentation of the president's cablegram Senator Borah was asked to state to the committee what information he could give that would be helpful in learning who has the treaty and how they got it.

"On March 6th," said Borah, "I began an investigation to find out what interest in connection with the league of nations the great international bankers of New York had. I learned that all were deeply interested in the league and were working for its adoption in this country. They were assisting, I found in various ways, by contributions, public speeches, interviews and other methods."

"I became convinced they were supporting the league, not through any ultra-patriotic motives, but for private reasons."

BORAH ASKS SUBPOENAS
"I do not intend to give the source of my information, which came to me in various ways, but I will give the committee the results of it. I now ask that the committee subpoena the following men."

Borah then submitted the list above, excepting Vanderlip, and on a motion of Senator Hitchcock they were ordered to appear with the documents mentioned.

"Would you mind adding the name of Frank A. Vanderlip?" asked Senator Williams, Mississippi. The committee acquiesced in this suggestion.

Continuing his statement, Borah said: "I think by questioning these gentlemen the committee will learn first that their interest in the league has been constant and active and second that they have had copies of the treaty for the past ten days."

"There will be no difficulty in establishing the facts concerning their possession of the treaty. The difficulty will come in showing their interest in it. But I want to lay a foundation for developing that."

Borah then announced that he had a copy of the treaty text and that he plans to read it into the record at today's session of the senate.

Former President Taft, who is being mentioned here as one of the prominent witnesses in the senate investigation, stated to close advisers that he is anxious to appear before the committee.

Taft Monday refused to comment on charges that he had secret information as to the contents of the treaty.

WILSON'S MESSAGE
The text of the president's cablegram to Senator Hitchcock follows: "Tumultuously, White house, Washington:

"Please convey the following to Senator Hitchcock: I am heartily glad that you have demanded an investigation with regard to possession of the text of the treaty by unauthorized persons."

"I have felt that it was highly undesirable to communicate the text of the document which is still in negotiation and subject to change. Any one who has possession of the official English text has what he is clearly not entitled to have or to communicate."

"I have felt in honor bound to act in the same spirit and in the same way as the representatives of the other great powers in this matter and am confident that my fellow countrymen will not expect me to break faith with them."

"I hope the investigation will be most thoroughly prosecuted."

WILSON WILL NOT REMOVE BURLESON DESPITE STRIKE

Wire Walkout Left in Hands of Postmaster General and Labor Board

WASHINGTON — Settlement of the threatened nation-wide strike of telegraph and telephone workers rests at present with the postmaster general and labor department, it was stated authoritatively here Monday.

Action by the president, it was said, will not be resorted to until these two agencies have definitely failed to secure any agreement between the workers and the companies.

Neither the postoffice nor labor departments Monday gave any intimation as to what were the lines on which they were working to avert the threatened walkout.

President Wilson, according to White house officials, has been fully informed of the facts of the strike. There is no intimation as to what action the president may take, but it was stated positively that he will not remove Postmaster General Burleson despite the storm of protest against Burleson's conduct of the wires.

Burleson Sunday held all day conference with wire and telephone officials but declined to make any statement as to what course of action, if any, had been determined upon.

Officials of the Washington union declared that telegraph business would be completely tied up here if the strike goes into effect Wednesday, despite the fact that the locals here and in New York are admitted to be among the weakest in the country.

A tie-up of business here would seriously cripple if not totally halt government business, it was pointed out today.

The prospect that the strike may tie up the cables to Europe, thereby cutting off President Wilson from communication with Washington, was also causing concern among officials here even though the interruption of cable service as far as the president's messages are concerned, would only be a few hours.

SUFFRAGISTS ASK THEIR 28 STATES FOR SPECIAL VOTE

WASHINGTON—The governors of the twenty-eight states in which women have full or presidential suffrage are urged to call immediate special sessions of their legislatures in a letter addressed to them by Maud Younger, lobby chairman of the National Woman's party.

"With the passage by congress of the constitutional amendment granting suffrage to women the struggle for women's enfranchisement is transferred to the states," says the letter.

"This struggle already has taken forty-one years of sacrifice on the part of the women of the nation. Believing that you earnestly desire its speedy termination and inasmuch as the legislatures of thirty-seven states will not meet in regular session before 1921, we appeal to you to call a special session of the legislature at the earliest possible date for the purpose of ratification."

WILL NOT SIGN, 'OWN SENTENCE,' AUSTRIANS AVER

Peace Terms Unacceptable, Says President Seitz—Will Join Germans

VIENNA — President Seitz, addressing the national assembly today, declared the peace treaty amounts to the "death sentence of German-Austria." He announced the Austrian ministry had agreed unanimously that the terms are "unacceptable."

"Nothing is left for us to do but to join Germany," said Foreign Minister Bauer. "The loss of Bohemia (Czechoslovakia) not only means the subjection of 3,500,000 German Austrians to foreign domination, but the loss of important industrial and agricultural districts. A state formed by violence is a menace to peace. Limitation of the Czechoslovak state is imperative to our national interests."

PARIS—A speeding up process, similar to that adopted for completing the German treaty, is now being applied to the counter proposals. The more optimistic members of the American commission predicted Monday that the treaty would be signed by June 20, allowing five days to a week between the time the reply is placed in the Germans' hands and the date to be fixed for their final answer.

The latest indications are that the allied answer will be ready for presentation Friday.

Allied experts were reported to have reached an agreement whereby the specific amount of reparations will not be put in the treaty but France and Belgium will accelerate establishment of the definite sum of their claims so Germany will learn the total indemnities she is to pay within two or three months after the treaty is signed, instead of having to wait two years, as first planned.

WILL ADMIT GERMANY

The league of nations commission, was understood to have reached an agreement on the reply to the Germans' demand for immediate admission to the league. While the agreement is yet to be ratified by the big four, it was said to provide that Germany shall be admitted after a brief period of probation, also she will be excluded from the executive council.

The territorial committee, it was reported, has recommended rejection of Germany's demand for mandatory powers over certain of her former colonies. This decision was said to have reached despite the suggestion of American experts that she be given administration of her former territories in East Africa.

BOMB PLOT CAMP FOUND AT BESSEMER

Pennsylvania City Scene of Death Conspiracy, Says Police Chief

Recent Internal Machine Outrage Organized and Directed There, He Asserts

BESSEMER, Pa.—Chief of Police James Finerty, of Bessemer, declared Monday in a statement to the United Press that he had evidence to show that the recent bomb outrages were organized and directed from here.

He declared that seven bombs were manufactured in a shanty near Bessemer and sent out in suitcases to be used by the anarchists.

Finerty said he had established the identity of the anarchist who met death in the explosion at the Palmer home in Washington, as Louis Lazdue, of Elgin, Ill.

"I have the goods," declared Finerty. "All I need is the help of the federal authorities in completing a roundup of the bomb plotters."

According to Finerty, the nation's leading anarchists have been holding secret meetings at Bessemer for several months and collecting funds for financing the bomb outrages.

FOUND MATERIAL

"Seven bombs were manufactured in a shanty near Carbon on the outskirts of Bessemer and shipped east on Saturday, May 31," Finerty said. "Two of these bombs were sent to Pittsburgh, two to Cleveland and two to Camden, N. J. They were packed in suitcases. The bombs taken to Camden were later transported to Washington by one of the anarchists."

The other bomb, according to Finerty, was taken to Holyoke, Mass., by an anarchist.

Finerty said that he visited the shanty where the bombs were assembled and found a number of cylinder tubes and other materials, used in making the internal machines. He declared that one of the bombs was in the hands of the Pittsburgh police.

According to Finerty, the anarchist killed in Washington was without a doubt Louis Lazdue, alleged radical, who had been living at Bessemer for several months and collecting funds for the bomb plant.

ANARCHIST MEETINGS

Finerty said the identity of Lazdue had been established by the description of the clothes given him by the Washington police and by the finding of an automatic revolver. The revolver found near the body of the man killed in the capital city had the same serial number as the one owned by Lazdue, Finerty declared.

Lazdue left Bessemer on the evening of May 27, for the east, Finerty said.

"Since January 5, the anarchists have been gathering here and holding meetings," Finerty declared. "At least nine outside agitators and fifteen local radicals attended these meetings."

"I informed the federal authorities of these gatherings and warned them that a plot was in formation. A federal officer was here to investigate but only remained one day."

"Since that time, with the co-operation of the state police, I have attempted to keep a watch on the activities of the anarchists, who are all aliens."

Finerty declared that he was powerless to make arrests or clean up the alleged anarchists in his community, without outside aid. He said that only with the assistance of the federal authorities or other outside agencies would he act.

Because of his "anti-red" activities, Finerty declared the radicals have threatened his life.

OHIOANS SIGN UP FOR 'PARLOR' SOCIALIST PARTY

COLUMBUS — Organization of a new political party, devoted to reconstruction of the Government, is being attempted by means of propaganda directed from New York under the auspices of a body known as the "Committee of Forty-Eight." In the appeal for membership and support, made through circular letters, it was stated that the new party is designed "to express the opinion of those independent American voters who find in neither of the old political parties any hope of a fundamental reconstruction program."

In the list of signatories from Ohio are said to be found the names of the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati; Prof. Arthur Schlesinger, of Ohio State University; M. J. Karpf and Kenneth Latourette.

Examination of the list indicates that the promoters of the movement are Socialists of the "parlor" variety, singletail advocates, "intellectual Bolsheviks" and academic radicals of the magazine and pamphlet types, it is said.

U.S. MAY MAKE OWN PEACE TERMS WITH BERLIN

Separate Pact Between America and Germany Is Given Serious Consideration By Republicans In Senate

This Course Would Leave the Country Free of Entangling European Alliances, Is View of These Solons

WASHINGTON.—Republican leaders in the senate are giving serious thought to the possibilities of a separate peace between the United States and Germany.

Though none of them would voice his views today for publication, it can be stated that they are fully aware that one result of senate opposition to the league of nations covenant and the treaty may be a separate peace.

They foresee an attempt to create a "race" between allied nations and the senate to ratify the treaty, which specifically provides that it shall become valid when ratified by three of the allied or associated powers. That is, if England, France and Italy—all bound not to make separate peace—should ratify the treaty before the senate does, it would end the war so far as those nations are concerned and allow them at once to resume commercial relations with Germany.

WOULD BE LEFT TO DEAL WITH FOE ALONE

The United States, however, as the senators view it, would be left with a state of war with Germany still in existence, and the other nations given a head start on resumption of business dealings.

That this possibility will be emphasized to the senate, Republican senators have no doubt. They are not disturbed by it, however, declaring they see no calamity in it.

Congress declared war on Germany, and can quite as easily declare the war ended, in these senators' opinion. Then by a separate treaty of amity and commerce, relations could be resumed.

The great advantage of this course, as these senators see it, is that it would leave the United States free of entangling European alliances.

Since the United States does not share and has no desire to share in the territorial or money gains of the allies, there is no reason, in the belief of some Republicans, why a treaty settling just America's quarrel with Germany should not be drawn up.

This course would defeat American participation in the league of nations, unless the senate, voting on it separately from the treaty now being completed, should agree to join the allies in forming it, they hold.

ALL HOSTILE TO LEAGUE

Whether they are willing to go to this length to defeat the league, these Republican senators declined at this time to say, though they are all hostile to the league. If they should adopt this course, it was pointed out, a filibuster until three other powers have ratified the treaty would be all that would be needed.

However, some senators believe ratification will not be immediate in some of the allied countries. In all but England, they said, the treaty must be submitted to the legislative body, though in none does its ratification carry the weight the senate's does. Even in England, where the crown is not obliged to submit treaties, it has been announced the present treaty is to be laid before the house of commons. Dissatisfaction is bound to cause considerable debate in all the foreign countries, senators believe, thus justifying the deliberate course they intend to pursue here.

TEXT OF GESMAN TREATY IS PUBLISHED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO — The Chicago Tribune Monday published what is said to be a complete text of the German peace treaty, together with photographic facsimiles of the first two pages, printed in French and English. The text was obtained in Paris by Frazier Hunt, Tribune correspondent, according to the story. In his accompanying story, Hunt said: "Outside of the copy in possession of the state department this is one of the few original copies there are in America."

"The copy brought by me to America entitled 'Conditions of Peace,' is printed in English and French, the French text appearing on the left and the English on the right hand page. The book is bound in paper and is, roughly, 8 by 14 inches, and a little over an inch thick. There are 416 pages of text running about 75,000 words and four large maps are pasted in the volume."

DOCTOR GOES TO TRIAL ON CHARGE OF WIFE MURDER

New York Physician Claims He and Mate Were Attacked By Gangsters

MINEOLA, N. Y.—Dr. Walter Keen Wilkins, 67 years old, is scheduled to face trial in Nassau County court today for the murder of his wife, Julia, at their Long Beach home on February 27th, last. Justice Seeger will preside.

Intense interest was manifested in the outcome of the case, which will be tried in the same court room in which Mrs. Jacques Lebaudy, and Mrs. Bianca De Saullies, faced a judge and jury charged with the murder of their husbands. Both were acquitted.

Many peculiar circumstances surround Mrs. Wilkins' murder. Dr. Wilkins' story was that they returned to their summer home at Long Beach from New York City. Opening the door, the doctor said he was struck on the head with a blunt instrument. Three men then grabbed Mrs. Wilkins and struck her several times on the head. She died within an hour. Dr. Wilkins told this story to the police, and while the three men were being hunted Wilkins disappeared. For several days the police instituted a country-wide search, without finding any trace of the physician.

Then it was reported he had been seen in Baltimore. While detectives were searching the city, the aged doctor was recognized in the Pennsylvania Station, New York, despite the fact he had shaved off his mustache and changed his appearance. He made no attempt to deny his identity, said he was on his way to surrender to the police and was immediately taken into custody. An indictment charging murder in the first degree was found, and he has since been in the county jail here, awaiting trial. "My wife and I lived in complete harmony," he declared. "We were always very happy; it's an outrage that such a charge should be brought against me."

Germany Will Not Sign Without Modification, Says Report

BERLIN.—The national assembly has been called to meet at the last of this week, "to consider peace questions."

While the cabinet, or even the peace committee of the assembly, has the power to accept or reject the treaty, it is believed, in view of this latest development, that the final decision will rest with the assembly as a whole.

This belief was strengthened by the statement of a member of the peace committee to the correspondent. He said that regardless of the tenor of the allies' reply to the counter-proposals the German delegation will neither quit Versailles nor sign the treaty without first consulting Berlin.

There is absolutely no change in Germany's determination not to sign the treaty unless it is modified, according to a member of the delegation now in Berlin. He further declared that Germany intends to stand pat on refusing to accept the entire guilt for the war without further investigation by a neutral commission; likewise that she would insist on immediate admission to the league of nations and plebiscites in the territories which the treaty would wrest from her.

Regarding indemnities, the German delegates said that Germany is prepared to make reparation to the limit of her ability to pay.

The government has introduced a bill in the national assembly creating a high court to try officials guilty of causing and losing the war.

The workers councils of the social democratic party have asked that the party hold a full session this week to consider removal of its present leadership. (This would include President Ebert and Chancellor Scheidemann.)

When a Girl Marries

By ANN LISLE

"So Dick West is Jim's partner," repeated Pat slowly, as if in weighing his word, he might weigh also the facts in the case. "I'm sorry—my word, I'm sorry."

We had come to the entrance of my apartment house and both Pat and I recognized that this was the end of neutral territory for him. He caught my hand in his and looked me squarely and purposefully in the eyes.

"It's a darned rotten shame!" he said fervently. "What you've told me about West being Jim's partner makes it worse—all along the line. But I'll trust you to take care of Phoebe somehow. Good-night, Mrs. Jimmie."

As I went in, the uneasy recognition stirred me that Pat was scarcely any more enthusiastic over Dick West as Jim's partner than he felt about him in the role of companion for Phoebe. Well, this was precisely the sort of thing Jim and I could discuss in a straight-from-the-shoulder, "man-to-man" fashion, in our new relationship as "good pals."

I smiled to myself as I thought of that. But it wasn't a happy smile. It was barely ten-thirty, so, of course, I didn't expect to find Jim at home. Nor was I pleasantly disappointed. The apartment was dark and empty when I flung open the door. I wasn't at all tired, and felt that the matter of Phoebe and Dick West ought to be gone into without further delay, so I got into my coral-colored negligee and slippers, took down my hair and tied it back with a ribbon and then established myself luxuriously on the couch with a new book and a wonderful box of candy which had come that very day from "Captain and Mrs. Winston."

Dear Betty and Terry! I gave myself over to thinking of their happiness, and then the memory of the terrible unhappiness that was impending for them came to lash me. I couldn't escape the recollection of how I had kept the truth about Betty's run from Terry. And so the hours dragged along until midnight.

My book didn't interest me greatly. But I read along mechanically for a while. I had never read myself to sleep before, but I did it this time; for—first thing I knew I was dreaming that some one was kissing me and calling me Little Sleeping Beauty.

I slid back to consciousness—there stood Jim by the side of the couch. I thought he looked angry and as if he took my staying up for him as an interference with his newly established freedom, and so I jumped up and began to explain: "I had something most important to talk over with you, Jim, so I stayed up—like a good pal. It's nothing to do with where you've been or where I've been. Truly, I've not the least curiosity about what you've been doing. I—I didn't stay up to spy, you know that, don't you?"

Jim studied me for a second with eyes that seemed to burrow beneath my words. I forced myself to look candid and impersonal, and stood quite still and cold though I wanted to cry out.

"Oh, Jimmie, Jimmie-boy, of course I care where you've been and what you've been doing—I care terribly! I'm not your pal at all, but your wife—and I love you!"

Then I saw Jim's jaw set and his lips fold tight. And I remembered that Jim loved his power over me and his will to dominate me more than he loved me as a free, thinking individual separated from him by just so much as we thought differently about right and wrong. I steadied myself to meet his reply. It came at last in a cold, hard voice:

"Oh, yes, I understand that your interest in me is a thing of the past, Anne, and that you care more about your 'freedom' than anything else. So I hope you're fair enough—and sensible enough not to butt in on mine."

"Good pals," I said, repeating the formula dreadingly. "Fifty-fifty—It's about Phoebe I want to consult you."

"Phoebe? Has the child asked you to talk to me?"

"No, it was Pat. He came along with Tom to the canteen to-night."

And then—as I remember that Jim had commissioned Tom to call for me, knowing as he did how averse I was to Tom—I began to feel a cool resentment that steadied me to accept the strange new relationship with Jim which had been hurting me so only a minute before.

"Pat seems to be a great favorite of yours," Jim declared in a tone I couldn't interpret. "Did he come up here with you?"

"Of course not."

"Then who's the baby vamp costume for? Pardon me if I seem over-inquisitive."

At that I wanted to laugh—or cry—but I didn't dare do either. So I leaped right into my story.

"I got comely to wait for you, Phoebe's seen a lot at that queer Chinese dance hall where we went the night you made your big winnings in Salt Water Oil, and—people are beginning to talk."

"Who taken Phoebe there?" asked Jim.

"She goes with Sheldon and Evvy and—Dick West."

"She goes with my partner and two of my oldest friends to have an occasional bite of chop-ney, and you—apostle of freedom—want to raise a rumpus over that," sneered Jim.

"But, Jim, that back-door Chinese dance hall! Pat said it was—horrid, and that Dick's reputation—"

"Dick is my partner. Phoebe chooses friends I approve of a long sight more than the crowd you're running with. And Pat had better look to his own reputation. If your idea of being a pal is to hold me up half the night gossiping about my kid sister and my friends, all I've got to say is you don't know much more about this than you do about—"

"Being a wife?" I questioned bitterly.

"You said that; I didn't!" he exclaimed. Then he limped into the other room and left me alone.

To Be Continued.

When the Schoonovers Go to Church the Preacher Hangs Up the Standing Room Only Sign

ELKINS, W. Va. — Thirty-four members of one family and all members of one church is the unique record of the Schoonover family of this county. Mrs. Judy Schoonover, two daughters, two daughters-in-law, two sons, two sons-in-law and 25 grand-children are now members of the Cheat River Presbyterian Church. Eleven were already members and 2 grandchildren and one son-in-law were baptized the other day.

Food and Prices

THE WHEAT HARVEST will begin this month in some parts of the United States, and will continue until fall when the last of the spring sowed wheat will be harvested. The price of this wheat has been fixed, and so no change in the prices of that article is to be expected. The other crops, however, are without market value except that made by the demand. Corn which goes to make pork and meal will have no basic fixed price. The same is true of other articles of food. The promise is for a rich harvest and the values will in part depend upon the demand from abroad. The outside world will produce more food than it did a year ago, but it will not be sufficient for the needs of all, and it is estimated that the United States must furnish a considerable amount to make up the deficiency. It is not necessary to repeat the figures given out of the quantities required; it is sufficient to know that the amount is not so large as a year ago. This will mean that there will be more food left in this country from the harvests, and with ordinary crops abroad the following year there should be a return to the normal exports of foodstuffs previous to the war. This would indicate that there can be little expectation of much lower food prices for the next six months, but after that period a decline might be expected.

Curbing Radicals

COUNTY AND CITY officials have been asked by the federal authorities to assist in the nation-wide campaign to put a stop to the work of radicals now operating in various parts of the country. This is a precautionary measure and the request is not prompted by any belief that this district harbors any bomb throwers.

OFFICIALS ARE HIGH in their praise of the manner in which people of this section have rejected the theories of the class which call for violence. They declare that the industrial class of Lima especially, prefers to do its own thinking rather than to be thought for by alien anarchists.

THIS IS A MOST encouraging sign. It proves that the doctrines of the Bolsheviks are not finding fertile ground here. It shows that Lima probably will not be visited with any of the horrors which other communities now are experiencing. Precautions will be taken by the authorities, but it is not expected that they will have any work to do along this line.

The Joint Debate

THERE IS ADVERTISED as a mass meeting for citizens under the chaperone of the Trades & Labor council a proposed joint debate between an adherent of the commission-manager form of government and a Dayton attorney against the change from Federal to Manager form.

SUCH A DEBATE should be attended by every tax-payer in Lima. What the people want is the best form of government that can be given our municipality. Conscientious objectors or inflated boomers matter little; every citizen knows Lima is going forward like a highly trained racer. It is not a boom; it is a steady growth and its very growth demands more and more improvements, efficiency in operation, and money, money, money for a growing plant.

ATTEND THIS DEBATE and hear both sides. Get your ideas firmly fixed so that you can vote intelligently when the question of changing the present form comes to vote in August. Do the best thing for Lima.

Today's Health Hints

ROUND SHOULDERS

Stoop-shoulders, round back, uneven shoulders narrow chest, relaxed or slouchy attitude, is the condition is variously known may signify a spinal curvature and for this reason every child or youth so afflicted should be carefully examined by a physician who examines patients carefully, that is, stripped to the waist. Mothers who do not appreciate the importance of trifles are likely to permit growing daughters to wear narrow, high-heeled shoes, which impose upon her an attitude or posture like that of a tired, flat-footed street-car conductor. Spring heels are the hygienic and sensible, that is intelligent equipment for girls' shoes, at least until girls are through going to school. But if rouge powder and corsets are essential to a schoolgirl's welfare let her have the French heels and make a thorough job of it. Her future is not bright anyway.

grown Unless proper physical training is applied early and faithfully the condition is sure to become fixed and the victim permanently deformed. Rarely is any mechanical support advisable; never, in fact without competent medical supervision. The unwise application of braces often converts a curable fault into an incurable deformity. Correct standing posture must be constantly practiced by the patient. This means feet parallel, four inches apart, toes straight ahead, not outward, chest held up, shoulders drawn outward, backward and downward; chin drawn in as though to make a double chin, and crown of head not forehead, striving to touch the cranium above, back of neck pressed against collar button. Every hour by the clock the hands should be clasped behind, as for a rider to mount, then the thumbs turned forward, downward and under and backward without releasing finger clasp. This forcibly draws the shoulders outward, downward and backward and enables the chest to expand. Hold the posture for one minute, breathing slowly and deeply. Stand before a mirror naked while doing this stunt and observe the abdomen and chest, and endeavor to attain a similar posture all the time.

Stand erect, slowly inhale while raising arms high at the side, then, retaining the air in chest bend stiff and try to touch fingers or palms to floor in front of feet; repeat this move ten to thirty times night and morning.

Lie prone on the floor, with the heels anchored under a dresser or bedrail. Clasp hands behind the neck. Slowly inhale and raise head and shoulders as high as possible from the floor, then slowly exhale and assume the prone again. Repeat this two or three times night and morning at first, and gradually increase from week to week.

Swimming is one of the best exercises for the correction of round shoulders and sunken chest. Q. ANSWERS Soldiers Are a Romantic Lot Returning soldiers tell me that they were fed salt water in the army. ANSWER—Well, they were not—but Victims are a romantic lot and you must discount many of the yarns they tell when they get back home.

Baby's Nighty Please advise me how to clothe baby at bedtime. She is teething yet, and I am afraid to make changes. Also, what she may have to eat besides her imperial granum made with condensed milk, while she is teething. (Mrs. H.) ANSWER—Assuming the baby is eight months old, undress her at 5 p. m., bathe her, powder her, rub her back with oil and let her kick and play, then put on her soft muslin or flannel nightgown, long enough to draw with drawing to cover in the feet and tuck her in bed for the night. She will probably continue "teething" whatever that may be—until she gets suitable food. Can't you find fresh milk? Ricklets, anemia, and all sorts of troubles are in store for your baby unless you begin proper feeding right now.

H. E. E. and Zola Faces Kindly inform me whether high blood pressure is analogous with high steam pressure in a boiler. Can a pale faced person have a high blood pressure or is it only full-blooded or florid complexioned persons that have it? (J. H. A.) ANSWER—Yes, it is comparable with high steam pressure. The appearance of the face gives no clue to the height of the blood pressure. Perhaps most persons with excessive blood pressure show some pallor.

CONFESSIONS of an EVERY DAY WIFE

BY IDA M'GLONE GIBSON

After we were all asleep that night there was a great ringing at the front door and Eliene told me the next morning that it was an answer to her wire.
"I did not sleep well," she said, "and as soon as I heard the ring I knew that it was a telegram for me. Of course I was deathly afraid that it would wake up the rest of the family."

"I slipped into my kimono and rushed down into the hall just as Brooks was sleepily taking the envelope from the grimy hand of the messenger."
"It is for you, Mrs.," he said, and I noticed that he was too dead with sleep to be surprised. I reached my room and read: "Will await your coming with impatience."
"Now what will we do?" she asked, and her voice trembled with apprehension.

Strange, isn't it, how sometimes a very self-reliant woman will have no idea how to manage her own love affairs if they happen to run other than smooth? Sometimes the weakest, most clinging little woman seems to know how to adjust her affairs of the heart better than any thing else, and she can keep a dozen men waiting on her will.
I think now after the whole affair is over that had I not been so interested in Eliene's affairs I would have been more curious about Theo's trip. As it was I kissed him good-bye and wished him good luck and told him I would be waiting for him on his return. I did not even ask him where he was going. I was anxious to get him away so that I could start.

I remember now that a peculiar look passed over his face as I wished him good luck, but at the time I scarcely noticed it.
It was not until I got on the train for — that I began to feel afraid for the outcome of my visit.
My plan, which had seemed perfectly feasible when I was talking to Eliene, presented all sorts of difficulties as the time approached when I would have to put it into practice.
But with what courage I could I went to the hotel and registered. Then I prepared to send my card to the man who was making the trouble for all of us.

Then as I turned from the desk to follow the boy up to the room I came face to face with Major Gordon.
"I do not think he was more surprised than I, but I also noticed he looked very much troubled."
"Do you intend staying long, Mrs. Margot?" he asked.

"Only until tomorrow," I answered.
"Perhaps I will not see you again," he said somewhat hurriedly. "I was called over here to identify a man who had forged my name about a year ago. He was quite a friend of mine, and I would like to let him off, but the bank insists that he be prosecuted. I have seen him yet and I wish I could some way warn him."

"I wonder," he said suddenly, you could not do it for me. He say he is still in his room. Send a card and say you would like to him. He will come down and I will try and warn him to get out immediately."
"I don't think the bank will permit matters any further if he gets away again as they have spent a great deal of money hunting him."
"I would not ask you to do that only I think that if he knew I was here he would think immediately that I wanted to take him back the bank."
"I can not understand why he does this, for although I had loaned him quite a little sum of money I would have given him more had he asked it."
"But will he come to see strange woman, Major?" I asked.
"That is just the one thing you can bank on him doing," said the Major. "I feel rather a cad to ask you to do this, Margot," he added, "but I will be right where you can come, and really I hope very much to do something for my friend. When we were boys he had much the best prospects, but somehow he took the wrong turning. I have always loved him like a brother—an erring brother if you will—and perhaps this will pull him up and make him turn over a new leaf. Here is his name, and he is in room twenty-three."

My heart stopped beating when I read the name on that card. It was that of Eliene's former lover!

LIMA DRUGGISTS OPPOSED TO TAX

Action Will be Taken Asking Repeal of Luxury Tax at Fountains

Lima members of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical association are keenly interested in the petitions circulated by the Northern Ohio druggists asking for a repeal of the luxury tax on ice cream soda, and other soda fountain articles.

"It is unfair," said C. M. Hunter, druggist, Public Square, "in that the law demands a 10 per cent tax on 10 cent purchases, but a 20 per cent tax on five cent articles, such as ice cream cones, and five cent drinks.

BELL'S

There is to be a meeting of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical association at Cedar Point this month," he said, "and it is expected that some action will be taken to include Lima in the nation-wide objection to this law.

"I suppose those most affected by the soda fountain tax are children. It is a difficult matter for them to get six cents for a cone, inasmuch as it breaks a ten cent piece. A mother will often willingly give five cents to the child for cones or soda, but the tax makes it necessary to give ten cents.

"I am looking for the tax to be repealed shortly in face of the general dissatisfaction, generally, which it has created."

GOT $2.50 LIQUOR

First Man Fined for Intoxication Since Drought

For the first time since the descent of the drought on Lima, the police blotter contained a charge of drunkenness, this morning. The familiar offense usually occupied the foremost position on the charge sheet.

Blaine Davis, 31, 1012 West Elm street, was resurrected from the cellar-way of the saloon formerly conducted by Thomas O. Stanyer, 225 south Main street, thereby bringing back familiar scenes to the mind of Officer Ramsey, who made the arrest.

Higher rates are now in effect for this charge according to Judge Botkin, of the criminal court, when he assessed a fine of $10 for the offense.

Davis is said to have told police he paid $2.50 for a pint of whiskey.

PEOPLE ARE AIDING IN FURNISHING NEW RESCUE HOME—REPORT IS MADE

Citizens of Lima are giving material aid to the Lima Rescue home of which the Rev. A. D. Welty is superintendent, now by agreeing to furnish rooms in the new building. So far 17 individuals and four Sunday schools have obligated themselves to do this. Subscriptions are being taken for buying the furniture needed.

Activities of the home during May are shown in the report just made public. It is shown that 240 lodgings were furnished and 242 meals were served. The cash received amounted to $230.65 and the amount spent, $227.90, leaving a balance for the month of $2.75.

The Rescue Home is fast extending its work of giving aid to the needy and putting men and women back on the right path. It expects to be able to accomplish much in the new building.

MANY WANT DITCHES

Inclement weather during the past month has resulted in the flooding of the county commissioner's office with petitions for the hearing of proposed ditches. Hearing of the Gray ditch on Tuesday, Shinaberry on Wednesday, Roeder on Thursday, and the Coon ditch on Saturday will occupy the attention of the commissioners this week.

OFFICERS FAIL TO FIND REPORTED "BOMB PLANT"

PITTSBURG—Reports of the finding of a "bomb plant" near Bessemer, Pa., were denied here today by Chief of Detectives Clyde Edeburn.

Two Cleveland detectives, accompanied by a detail of local city detectives, went to Bessemer Saturday and investigated the alleged report. They had been invited by Chief of Police Finnerty of Bessemer to make the trip. Finnerty said that a woman told him she knew where five or six radicals had manufactured bombs used in the terrorist outbreak a week ago.

The officers scoured the Bessemer section all day Saturday, but found no trace of the "bomb plant," Edeburn said.

According to Edeburn, the woman, when questioned, admitted to the police that she had made false statements, and knew nothing of the anarchists' rendezvous.

Woman and Her Work

A very pretty wedding of Saturday was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Jewell, of 131 Dana avenue, when their daughter, Miss Irene Jewell, became the bride of John F. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Warren, of Bellefontaine avenue.

To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march the couple took their places under an arch of the national colors and pink roses, where the ceremony was read by Rev. J. W. Holland, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church. Miss Lorene, sister of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaid and Paul Runnels as the bridegroom's attendant. The bride wore a charming creation of blue satin and georgette and carried pink roses. Miss Warren's costume was also of blue satin.

Immediately following the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served to the immediate relatives and friends. A basket of pink roses tied with tulle centered the table.

Among the out of town guests attending the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sutherland, of Kenton. Others attending the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Warren, and daughter, Lorine; Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McClain, Harold and Orvil Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jewell, and daughter, Filma, Golda Jewell, and Paul Runnels. The couple will make their home in Muskogee, Okla.

WISCONSIN NURSE'S FATE IS MYSTERY

Dora Schuster

MADISON, Wis. — (Special) What has been the fate of Dora Schuster, sister of a Stoughton, Wis., business man, who went to Russia shortly after war was declared in 1914, to become a Red Cross nurse, and who has not been heard from since 1917?

In her last letter Miss Schuster told of being wounded while rendering aid on the field of battle, of being invalided back to Petrograd and of her ultimate recovery. She was then awaiting assignment to the front lines.

A few days ago Aaron Schuster, her brother, received a letter from a brother still in Russia, but after a two-year hunt he said he was unable to find any traces of Dora.

The small stage was somewhat transformed by use of bowls of peonies and purple iris.

Miss Donna Shappell, one of the graduating class, played the Spinning song very beautifully.

Then Miss Helen Basinger gave a most exquisite little Chinese play by Ruth Comfort Mitchell, taking the three parts so that one really visualized the bit of foreign life in the midst of busy New York City.

Miss Shappell by request, played Schubert's "Hark Hark the Lark."

Miss Basinger with just a few descriptive touches made her hearers feel they were witnessing a beautiful play when she gave "The Florists Shop" by Winifred Hawkrig.

Miss Basinger has but recently returned from a course of study in Chicago, and in her reading shows great improvement and proves to have descriptive powers of rare quality.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY
VAN WERT — Charged with conspiracy, Charles Brewer, formerly of Van Wert, was brought back from Piqua where he was found by Constable Baxter and placed under arrest. Constable Baxter discovered Brewer's whereabouts in Piqua by following his father to his home.

Rupture Kills
7,600 Annually
Seven thousand persons each year are laid away the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 227, St. Louis Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

NATION LEAGUE BACKED BY U. S. LABOR LEADERS

American Federation Executive Committee Declares For Treaty As Framed—Outlines Reconstruction Program

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Unqualified endorsement is given the peace treaty and League of Nations covenant by the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor in its report, submitted to the annual federation convention, opening here Monday.

The basic principles of a lasting peace are in the treaty, the report says, and adds that with a peace so built "the world has in truth been made safe for democracy."

The covenant of the League of Nations, the report continues, "must meet with the unqualified approval and support of the American working people. It is not a perfect document and perfect is not claimed for it. It does, however, mark the nearest approach to perfection that has ever been reported in the international affair of mankind."

"We declare our endorsement of the triumph of freedom and justice and democracy as exemplified in the covenant of the League of Nations."

Dismissing the peace treaty as a whole, the report states:

"The introduction of nine specific labor clauses in the peace treaty declares that 'the well being, physical and morale of the industrial wage earners is of supreme international importance.'"

"In such declaration has ever been written into international law through any previous treaty of peace and it is due to the efforts of American labor more than to any other single factor that it appears in this emphatic form in the present treaty."

The report views the pan-American labor conference held at Laredo, Texas, in November.

RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM.—A bug reconstruction program called the most complete and most constructive yet made in this country," it set forth in the report.

The measures making up the program are:

DEMOCRACY IN INDUSTRY.—The report declares it essential that workers should insist upon their right to organize into trade unions; that legislation should be passed making it a criminal offense for employers to attempt to interfere with the rights.

UNEMPLOYMENT.—Unemployment, the report says, is caused by underconsumption of which, in turn, is caused by low wages.

WAGES.—After declaring that there is no method for obtaining just wages except through the trade union movement, the report says:

"The workers of the nation demand a living wage for all wage earners, skilled or unskilled, a wage that will permit the worker and his family to live in health and comfort."

HOURS.—The report reiterates the demand for an eight hour day with overtime prohibited except in emergencies.

WOMEN IN INDUSTRY.—Women, the report says, should receive the same pay as men for equal work performed and should not be permitted to perform tasks disproportionate to their physical strength.

CHILD LABOR.—"Exploitation of the child for private gain must not be permitted," the report says, calling for laws to protect children.

STATUS OF PUBLIC EMPLOYEES.—Public employees should have the rights as citizens.

COOPERATION.—The report recommends solution of production, transportation and distribution problems through co-operation, declaring the middle men can be eliminated in this way.

PEOPLE'S FINAL VOICE IN LEGISLATION.—Report recommends legislation to allow laws once held unconstitutional to become effective if re-enacted.

POLITICAL POLICY.—Report opposes a "labor party," and says better results can be secured to labor by non-partisan support of candidates known to be friendly.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.—"Public and semi-public utilities should be owned, operated or regulated by the government in the interest of the public," the report says. Whatever disposition is made of the railroads rights of employees must be protected.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF MERCHANT MARINE.—Legislation for development of water power by the federal government and states is recommended.

OWNERSHIP OF LAND.—"To wipe out 'evils of tenant farming' report recommends a graduated tax on all usable lands above the amount cultivated by the owner with provisions whereby tenant farmers or others may purchase tracts."

REGULATION OF CORPORATIONS.—"The report calls for federal licensing with federal supervision over stock and bond issues."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.—"The report asks removal of restrictions on freedom of speech."

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.—"Within out employers liability"

SON OF DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH TO VISIT AMERICA

Marquis of Blanford
The Marquis of Blanford, eldest son of the Duchess of Marlborough, who was formerly Consul General in New York, is expected to visit New York this summer. During the war the marquis, who is twenty-two, served with the British army. He is conspicuous in the younger set of the British Isles.

Aside from his title of marquis he is heir to the dukedom of Marlborough, one of the oldest and best known of the English peerages.

TAKING BRIDGE BIDS.—County commissioners are in session with the county officials of Putnam county to receive bids for the construction of an inter-county bridge in the Williams road. The road was opened to traffic last April and the proposed structure will be of concrete.

STANDARD OILS SHOW WEAKNESS

Postponement of Decision on Stock Dividends Removes Buying Power

Heaviness continued in the market for Standard Oil securities during the week. There was no great pressure to sell stocks, but there was a noticeable lack of buying in the market. The recent action of the Supreme Court of the United States in ordering the stock dividend case for reargument, involving a delay until probably next fall, has removed the chief bullish factor in this market.

In the oil securities on the New York Stock Exchange, Mexican Petroleum was easily the feature, selling up to a new high price of 205 1/2. This was a speculative move in the nature of a drive against the short interest. It was followed in interest by Pan-American Petroleum & Transport, regarding which there are numerous rumors of pending deals.

20,000 BARS OF SOAP COME TO LIMA BY MOTOR TRUCK

It looks like a big clean-up week for Lima.

A shipment of 20,000 bars of Classic soap was received by motor express by the Delsel company, from Swift and Company, Chicago, arriving Sunday afternoon.

The trip was a test of the possibility and feasibility of shipping goods from Chicago to Lima by motor express. The trip was made in 18 hours, with very little difficulty.

If this plan proves satisfactory the route will become a permanent one, and many of the Swift products from the lakeside city will come to Lima by motor express.

SPORT SNAP :SHOTS:

The Royal Yacht Squadron, the most important yachting organization in the British Isles, is planning to resume racing off Cowes this summer, according to word received in New York. The announcement was made by Commodore Lord Ormonde at the annual spring meeting of the organization held a few weeks ago at Claridge's hotel in London. The senior flag officer stated that providing sufficient suitable yachts were fitted and in commission the club would offer prizes for them at a regatta to be held at Cowes in August. The club, however, will make no attempt to hold Cowes Week this year.

If the New York Yacht club took similar steps, undoubtedly there would be at least one race for the organization this summer. Every day one hears of some new yacht going into commission. Of course, the number is small when compared with former years. Still there is a possibility of several of the "fifties" taking to the water, one or two of the "forties" and an equal number of the thirty footers of the club. Undoubtedly, others would be put into commission if their owners thought the club would hold one race this year.

Even if the big yachts are not put into commission, there promises to be plenty of small boat racing. Word comes from Boston that the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club is anxious to challenge for the Seawanhaka cup, originally offered by the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht club of Oyster Bay, but now held by a down east yachting organization.

It is a good ten years since there has been a race for the Seawanhaka cup. The Seawanhaka and the Massachusetts, which successfully defended the cup, were sold to the Southern Yacht club of New Orleans. They have been in southern waters for years. A challenge for the trophy would create great interest in down east yachting circles.

If New York is without any international or inter-sectional racing this summer, the metropolitan tars will have the satisfaction of knowing that one of the New York yachting organizations has been the first to promote a new class since Uncle Sam declared war on Germany. The credit goes to the Yacht Racing association of Jamaica Bay, which shortly will have a new class of little fellows.

Had it not been for the war, the yachts would have been built two years ago. At that time it was decided to build Sea Mews, a class designed by Fred Goeller, a Manhattan naval architect, who is now in the United States navy. The Sea Mews was chosen after a committee made up of R. H. Bohrens, Canarsie Yacht club, E. Oppenheim, Rockaway Park Yacht club, B. Yenser, Motor Boat club of Jamaica Bay, and W. Endlich, Canarsie Yacht club, had thoroughly investigated all of the small one design classes on neighboring waters.

The idea of the committee was to find a boat with a large enough sail spread to be a good sailer and at the same time a safe enough craft for the younger generation. The principal reason for the promotion of the class was to encourage youngsters. Still a boat was wanted that would be large enough to sit five or six full sized adults without unnecessary crowding.

NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME PITCHED BY PIERCE

In a remarkable exhibition of first in time. The next man nearly consistent, cool and clever pitching, got to first when Malloy threw the ball low to Hike who picked it off his shoe. The next man walked, but the fourth man up struck out.

The locals had a chance for a double play in the second when Avery got a walk, stole second, and Hemphill knocked a hot fly to Malloy who threw it to Egan covering second. Avery could have been caught off the bag, but Egan got mixed up with the sphere and his his feet.

It was a tight game from start to finish featured by many sensational plays. Malloy made a couple of clever plays, fielding hot grounders and bee-liners with ease and precision. Sutter, second on the visiting team, made a single handed back hand catch of Hike's fly in the fourth.

In the eighth Pierce dropped Hemphill's grounder, but got it to

LOCAL DIAMOND FLASHES

Nom-de-plume Pierce is a perfect gentleman. He pitched the first no-hit, no-run game that has been seen on the local diamond for seven years. And he is unassuming, and modest, plays a clean game, and the girls say he is very nice looking.

Walter Justice pitched a no-hit, no-run game seven years ago on the local lot, against the Lima O. S. League club, and the very next day was signed with the St. Louis Nationals. Local fans are hoping that they won't take our find Pierce away from us at this stage of the game, but he is likely to go up the ladder.

Hemphill who played center field for the Shipbuilders, was at one time the best fielder in the American league, playing with both the New York and Cleveland clubs in Ben Johnson's circuit.

Next Sunday the Keystone team from Chicago, will journey back to Lima, and try to gather in another game. They played here May 25, and took the game one to nothing. They got only two hits on Pierce that game, and local fans will welcome them back, as it promises to be a repetition of yesterday's sensational game.

Ringside Flashes

Happy MacHenry, of Montpelier, and Young Webb, of Dayton, fought a terrific ten round draw at Dayton Saturday night. MacHenry is to meet Mike O'Leary at Wapakoneta Wednesday night, and many local fans are going to make the trip.

Benny Lewis rocked Patsey Hill, of Cincinnati, to sleep in the third round of their tilt at Dayton Saturday night.

The bout between Dick O'Brien and Joe Bonds, scheduled for the Elmwood arena, Cincinnati, Monday night, has been postponed on account of O'Brien's wrenched back. The battle will be held June 23.

Ritchie Mitchell will not be able to box Champion Jack Britton at Milwaukee June 16th, as scheduled. He broke his hand in a battle with Johnny Dundee at Milwaukee some weeks ago, and rebroke it again boxing with a sparring partner Saturday.

Johnny Dundee is also out of the running for a while, suffering from an attack of boils. He has been living in clover for several months, and the rich food has affected his health. The scheduled bout with Champion Benny Leonard in Philadelphia, June 16th, is postponed.

Battling Levinsky and Willie Meehan, the California heavyweight, will stage a battle at Shibe Park, Philly, June 30.

Joe Lynch, aspirant for the bantam-weight honors of the world, will meet Champ. Pete Herman in Philly, June 26.

Ralph Brady, a Syracuse hopeful in the lightweight class, is all dated up for the near future. Monday night he boxes Young Michaels at Syracuse, June 15th. Young Schaffer, at Buffalo, June 23, Tommy Twoby at Portland, and June 25 Willie Jackson in Philly.

PENNANT RACERS BUNCHED AT TOP

By H. C. HAMILTON
NEW YORK — The American league pennant race has hit its usual mid-summer form. Bunched in a row the three leaders of the contest today are separated by only twenty-two points, the White Sox leading the Indians by nineteen, and the Yankees trailing the Clevelanders by three.

The skids placed under the Sox since they left their favorite playground in the neighborhood of the Chicago stockyards seem to have been well greased. After one feeble pass at the Yankees, they have lost two in succession and were carded for another matinee with the Huggins gang today. The Indians are more fortunate, with the schedule directing them to a visit with the Athletics.

As was feared, the Chicago pitchers are failing in their effort to do a Tyler-Rudolph-James stunt. They were going fine during the early days when rainy and cold weather was causing many postponements, but the days of double-headers are finding them lacking.

With one more good pitcher the race probably would prove a walk-in for the Gleason crew. Where he is going to find such a hurler is a mystery, unless he could persuade Ed Barrow to part with one for an outfielder.

Cincinnati crept half a game closer to the Giants yesterday by trouncing the Dodgers in an abbreviated pastime while the leaders remained idle.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero—George Sisler. The St. Louis star, scored the first of a pair of runs after doubling and drove in the second and winning one off Walter Johnson.

Guy Morton's single settled the Athletics in the ninth, 2 to 1.

Ray stopped the Reds after they had plastered the Dodgers with four runs, leaving a 4 to 1 defeat for the Brooklyn upstarts.

The mighty Alexander apparently is growing more so. He won from the Braves, with nine runs to help him.

Frank Baker's home run was his first of the year in New York, contributing to the Yankees' victory of 4 to 0 over the White Sox. Bob Shawkey allowed one hit.

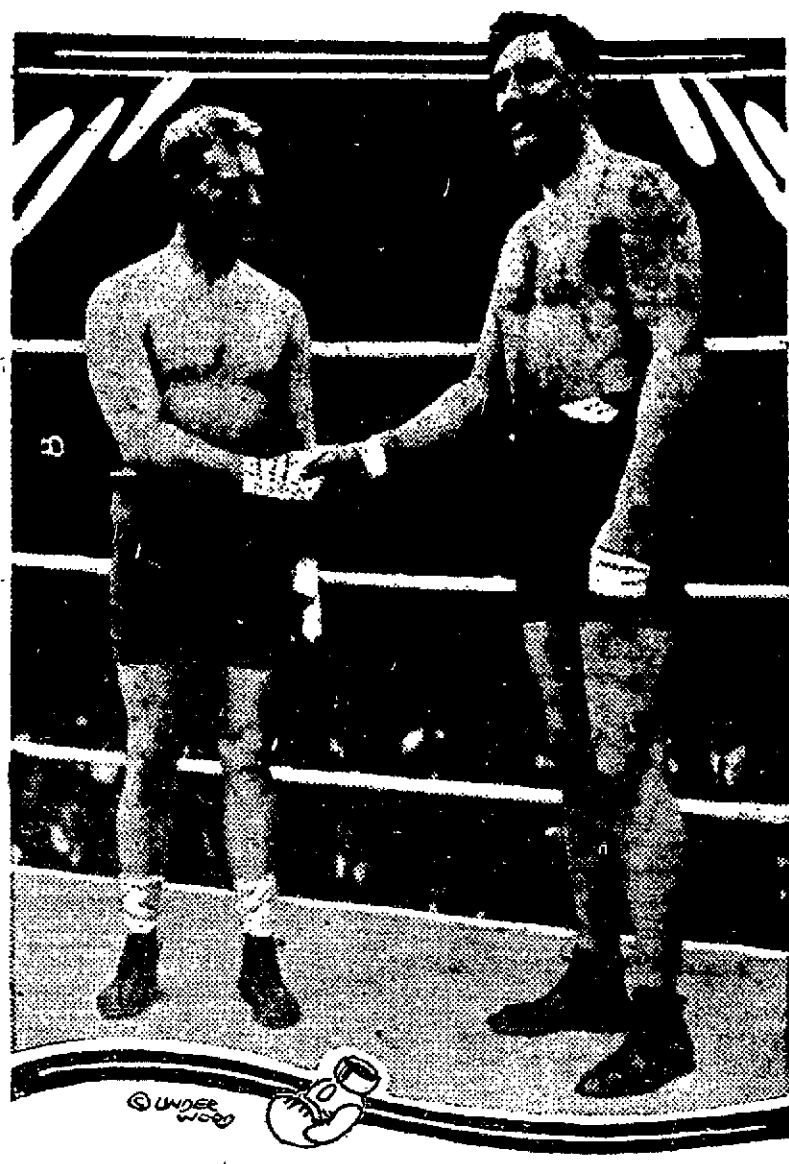

Red Ames, pitched his first full game of the year and turned back the Phillies, 6 to 3.

GORDON MADE RECORD WHILE IN WASHINGTON

Reforms instituted in the document room of the national congress by "Bob" Gordon, St. Mary's, former congressman from this district and sergeant-at-arms, still are in effect there. He made an enviable record during his Washington career, and leaves the service of 12 years with a host of friends.

His removal as sergeant-at-arms the first of the year came when the Democrats lost power in the house.

JESS WEIGHS SAME AS HE DID WHEN HE MET MORAN, IS WORD

Picture taken just before Jess Willard and Frank Moran met, March 25, 1916, at New York, shows how Willard looked then. Willard at right.

By N. E. BROWN
According to a member of the party accompanying Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion today weighs exactly the same as he did the night he met Frank Moran in Willard's last bout.

Willard that night weighed 259 1/2 pounds. That was March 25, 1916.

If this is the right dope on big Jess the fellows who have been figuring that Willard is hopelessly overweight and will be easy prey for Jack Dempsey in their battle at Toledo July 4 will have to hunt up a new reason for picking Jack the Giant Killer to win.

Willard was not trained down to the finishing point that night. Pictures taken before the contest show that. But these pictures also show that Jess could easily have taken off what few extra pounds of meat he carried had he decided that it was necessary to be right on edge for Moran. As the result of the battle showed, Jess had it figured out Moran was easy picking and decided that all he had to do was to outpoint the Pittsburgher.

If the cowboy weighs 259 pounds and a fraction the question immediately arises as to what Jess will weigh when he enters the ring for his mill with Dempsey.

Offhand I'd say 248 pounds. This means that Willard will take off eleven pounds between now and the day of the mill. Careful eating and a fair amount of road work and gym work ought to do this.

If Willard enters the ring at 248 pounds he will have the advantage of between fifty-five and sixty pounds in weight over the challenger. To my mind this fact alone gives Willard a great advantage. Fifty pounds is some poundage to give away even in a fight between big men.

If it were seventy-five pounds instead of fifty-five Dempsey could feel more confident of success.

If Willard were to enter the ring at 265 or 270 pounds he undoubtedly would be lumberingly slow and clumsy. Dempsey, because of his clever footwork and speed might hope to flint the mammoth gent into swinging wild and then step inside his blows.

But Jess Willard, at 248 pounds, will not be a lumbering hulk of slow moving machinery. He'll have enough speed to handle Dempsey, in my estimation, and if Dempsey gets to him it will be because he is able to batter his way through Willard's long arms.

ADOPT WHEAT SCALE

VAN WERT — At a meeting of elevator men of the county held at the office of County Agent Andrew, the government scale for buying of wheat on grade was adopted and will be used by all the elevators in handling the new crop. H. E. Erdman, wheat expert of Columbus, gave an address at the meeting.

REPUBLICANS TO MAKE BIG SLASH IN SUPPLY BILLS

$650,000,000 Already Cut From Sums Asked—Economy to Limit is Cry.

WASHINGTON — "Economy to the limit" is being made the outstanding policy of congress by the Republicans.

Reductions in the amount various departments are asking of more than $650,000,000 already have been agreed upon by the house committees. A joint conference of senate and house steering committees Saturday assured the same economic policy would be maintained in the senate.

In addition, the Republicans have agreed to reduce the average size of the army from 500,000 men as outlined by the war department, to 400,000. The navy is to be cut down an average of 25,000 below the figures of Secretary Daniels and the dropping of 3,000 yeomanettes has been recommended.

ARMY AND NAVY CUT

The money to be saved is largely in the army, navy and railroad administration money measures. The army bill was cut down $307,000,000 over the bill that passed the last house. The navy fund will be reduced to below $600,000,000, a reduction of about $150,000,000. Members of the appropriation committee have indicated that the request of Director General Hines for $1,200,000,000 for the railroads would be reduced at least $200,000,000. The biggest cut, it is believed, will be in the item of working capital.

Other good sized decreases have been made in other appropriation measures.

Republican leaders insist the policy of trimming to the limit is necessary to relieve the greatest burden of taxation caused by the war. In some Democratic quarters, the cry of politics is being raised, the claim being that the Republicans are going too far and are trying to impair the efficiency of the departments.

"CHANCE FOR BREATH"

"The war is over," Chairman Kahn of the military affairs committee stated Saturday, "and the big lump sum appropriations that were necessary during the war are a thing of the past. We were asked for large experimental appropriations, but I believe the people of the country should have a chance to get their breath."

Kahn's committee reduced the estimate for aviation from $83,000,000 to $15,000,000. Between 20 and 25 per cent was slashed off the pay and subsistence item of the army. The transportation bill was reduced from $449,000,000 to $242,000,000 and regular supplies from $125,000,000 to $95,000,000. Action on the bill will be taken in the house next week.

Chairman Good of the house appropriations committee, said that when the final record of the present congress is complete it will show more reductions than any other session in the last twenty years.

"We must either cut heavily at every possible place or find some way of greatly increasing the government revenue," Good said, "for our expenses are still far ahead of the income."

Representative Kitchen, Democratic leader, while praising the economic policy, today warned that "government departments which still have greatly increased burdens, despite the signing of the armistice, should not be hampered."

Sentiment for repeal of many of the taxes in the revenue act, which seemed strong at the opening of the session, apparently is waning. Prediction now is made that the luxury taxes will stand with several others, and that only a few of the minor consumption taxes will be repealed, because of the great need of funds.

COPIES OF WELTY'S PROBE RESOLUTION ARE RECEIVED HERE

Copies of the resolution presented in congress by Hon. B. F. Welty, congressman from this district, calling for a probe of the alleged aircraft muddle have been received in Lima.

In the resolution Welty calls for a complete investigation of the matter in which Col. E. A. Deeds, Dayton, was involved in the report made by Charles Evan Hughes, named to conduct an investigation. Several allegations are made in the resolution. One is to the effect that Deeds, while head of the aircraft production, transferred stock in concerns he was interested in to his wife. Others relate to alleged irregularities in the letting of contracts.

ROAD "UP AGAINST IT" AS RESULT OF STRIKE

COLUMBUS — Striking employees of the Norfolk and Western railroad shops were still holding out today. Company officials admitted that they were "up against it" with 751 men out but so far train service has not been impaired.

Press reports yesterday declared that the railroad employees' division of the American federation of labor has declared the strike illegal and unsanctioned and ordered the men to return to work.

"We have received no orders of that kind," Chas. L. Smith, member of the committee in charge, said today. The only orders we received came from union headquarters and they were to hold out until further notice."

3 TRAFFIC VIOLATORS ARE ARRESTED SUNDAY

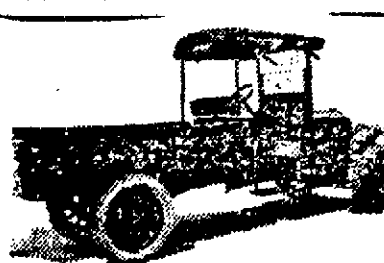

Police crusade against speeders and traffic violators netted only three offenders Sunday. They were C. F. Heller, editor of the South Side Commercial Star, south Main street, and R. C. Fought, 219 west Haller street, charged with fast driving. They were fined $10 each. Carl Bimel, 35, Portland, Ind., forfeited $10 bond for the same charge.

John Johnson, 22, black, 133 east Wayne street, was assessed a fine of $15 for his alleged attack on Ray Buck, also colored, 214 south Washington avenue at the carnival grounds May 5.

MAYOR WOULD THROW RAILWAY OFF STREETS

DETROIT—Mayor Couzens today proposed to the city council to "throw the Detroit United railway off the streets," as a sequent to the street car strike which has completely tied up this city since Sunday morning.

The mayor's plan, as proposed to the council, would call that body into a special meeting June 29 to vote the issuance of $10,000,000 worth of bonds so that the street system could be acquired and operated by the municipality.

Short Shavings

A cab halted at a street corner and a man alighted. The latter had evidently not the means at hand to pay his fare by the manner in which he dived first into one pocket and then the other. He was relieved, however, from his embar-ment by a man tendering a treasury note to the driver with the remark:

"Take your fare out of that. I know this gentleman."

The change was given and the cabby was soon out of sight.

"To whom am I indebted for this kindness?" asked the first gentleman.

"Not me, sir. On the contrary, that's a bad note I've been wanting to change all day."

"Where are you going to lecture tonight, my dear?" inquired Mr. Wise of his wife, a prominent equal suffrage lecturer.

"I am to address the Cooks' and Housemaids' Union," she responded.

Her husband laughed.

"I see nothing to laugh about. Surely they have as much right to vote as any other woman," his wife began indignantly.

"I am not denying that, my dear," mildly explained Mr. Wise. "but it is a waste of time. Don't you realize that a cook or housemaid never remains long enough in one position to be entitled to a vote?"

Mr. Wise, recognizing the wisdom of this canceled her engagement by telephone.

"And when you told him I was married," said the girl who had alighted him, "did he seem to be sorry?"

"Yes," replied the other. "he said he was very sorry—although he didn't know the man personally."

FOR BURNING ECZEMA

Apply Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied to a clear skin. It is wasted. From any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching and heals skin troubles, also soothes burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

ONE-STOP TRANS-CONTINENTAL FLIGHT NEW AMBITION OF U. S. AIR FORCE

Route of proposed trans-continental flight: (1) Mineola, L. I., starting point; (2) North Platte, Neb., scheduled landing point en route, and (3) San Francisco, the finish. Photo is of Capt. Roy N. Francis, who will pilot the Martin bombing plane to be used for the trip.

WASHINGTON—(Special)—A trans-continental airplane flight from Mineola, L. I., to San Francisco, with only one stop en route, is to be attempted in a few days, according to an announcement by the war department. Capt. Roy N. Francis will pilot the plane and First Lieut. Edward A. Clune, another skilled aviator, and two or three expert mechanics will accompany Francis. Valuable meteorological information and other data will be gathered on the trip. The army hopes to make the trip a success to add its chapter to the aviation history being made by United States fliers.

The condition of the territory passed over will be tabulated from the standpoint of good and bad terrain for aerial routes.

The distance traveled will be about 2,750 miles and the department estimates the trip will take thirty-two hours.

Thirteen states will be passed over by the fliers, the route leading over many of the important cities.

Time Schedule of the Bomber.
